Competences

The jury will evaluate the applications.

Minutes shall be taken for each meeting of the jury, including the issues discussed and the votes by each of the members and the grounds for the decisions made.

Selection method

The applications admitted to the job position will be assessed taking into account the quality, timeliness and relevance of the scientific curriculum (scientific output and research experience) suited to the strategic objectives of the research project and the creation of new knowledge, as well as the professional curriculum of the applicants, in addition to the level of adequacy to the proposed work plan.

In the first stage of the selection process, the jury will assess the set of elements listed below on a scale of 0 to 20:

The selection criteria shall be as follows:

1. Experience and training in Basic and/or Applied Psychology (40%)
2. Master's or Integrated Master's degree final classification higher than 13 values (15%)
3. Scientific production in Basic and/or Applied Psychology (30%)
4. Demonstration of fundamental knowledge of statistical software (e.g., SPSS, STATA) (15%)

Each of the items (a) to (d) is rated with a score from 0 to 20. Only the five candidates with the highest score obtained with items (a) to (d) will have an interview.

In the event of a tie, the final decision will be the responsibility of the jury's chairman.

After the selection stages have been concluded, the jury will draw up, within no more than 7 workdays, a minute which will include the final decision, a ranking of the admitted applicants with their respective final scores, as well as a brief description of the recruitment process, assessment, and selection.

In the second stage of the selection process, an interview will be conducted in Portuguese and/or English. The jury will assess the set of elements listed below on a scale of 0 to 20:

- a) Attitude and critical sense (40%)
- b) Candidate motivation (40%)
- c) Global assessment (20%)

The Final Classification of candidates will be obtained by the following formula:

Final Classification = (First stage score x 0,6) + (Second stage score x 0,4)

Additional comments

1. Prior Hearing

The jury's final deliberation, referred to in paragraph 9.5 of the previous number, is communicated to the interested parties so that, in the exercise of the right of prior hearing provided for by the Administrative Procedure Code, they can, within 10 working days, pronounce themselves.

Homologation

When the deadline for the exercise of the right of prior hearing has expired, the jury's final decision is certified by the Chairperson of the Executive Committee of COFAC, crl., which is also responsible for deciding on the hiring of the selected applicant.

Dissemination of results

The list of admitted and rejected applicants, as well as their respective final scores, will be posted on the website <https://hei-lab.ulusofona.pt/>, and the applicants will be notified by email.

Policy of non-discrimination and equal access: COFAC/Universidade Lusófona actively promotes a policy of non-discrimination and equal access, whereby no candidate may be privileged, benefited, disadvantaged or deprived of any right or exempted from any duty on the grounds of, inter alia, ancestry, age, gender, sexual orientation, marital status, family situation, economic situation, education, origin or social condition, genetic heritage, reduced work capacity, disability, chronic illness, nationality, ethnic origin or race, territory of origin, language, religion, political or ideological convictions and trade union membership (Law n° 93/2017, 23 August).

Data Protection: By applying, you agree with the use of your personal data by COFAC/Universidade Lusófona staff for exclusive purposes of this open call. COFAC/Universidade Lusófona administrative staff will use your contacts to contact you directly, and in the publication of the results, according to the principles set by the GDPR.
